Following a record turn-out in 2005, the Ford's Colony Homeowner's Association has again opened its property for HHS to hold the BARK IN THE PARK on Saturday, April 29th starting from the Ford's Colony Swim and Tennis Club at 9 AM.

Directions and additional information are available on the HHS website.

In addition to the great outdoors offered by the 1, 2 or 3 mile walking trails we've laid out in Ford's Colony, this year's event will feature the popular DogGone Walk Festival at which area breed rescue groups, municipal Animal Control and service groups will have information and exhibit booths showing what they do and offering agility demonstrations, pet advice and even a pet massage!

Prizes will be raffled during the morning, and we will also be awarding prizes for creative costumes, best tail wagger, best kisser, best owner and pet look-a-like and many more.

All walkers with donations of $25 or more will be eligible for gifts that may include a bandana, BIP Logo T-shirt, HHS Logo Notepad, goodie bag from Hill's Science Diet or BIP baseball cap based on the size of the pledge and until the prizes are gone. Children 12 and under raising $15 or more will receive a prize bag. Shirt sizes will be available on a first-come, first served basis until they're all gone. Additional prizes will be awarded for the largest pledge donation and we will be seeking mascots for the 2006/2007 period. A caricature likeness of the newly selected mascots will be created for use on the 2007 BARK IN THE PARK t-shirt. This year's BIP logo, created by Bob Oller of Oller Studios,

The Director's Corner

Dear Friends,

The Spring 2006 issue brings a wealth of information about activities and accomplishments of the HHS along with an annual report from our Board and sincere thanks to our many donors.

I wish we had more space to share with you the many letters and photos - the 'Success Stories' we receive from those who've adopted a new lifetime companion from us. Most are truly heartwarming stories describing the difference a pet has made in the life of the adopter or his or her family. One of the greatest rewards for our staff is to read these letters and see pictures of animals they've cared for while in our shelter. We love them all, but stories about an older animal or a disabled pet with a new chance at life are absolutely wonderful. To all who take the time to write, thank you.

My annual report in this issue focuses on how much we have achieved together. Ours has truly been a community success story that would not be possible without your continued support. I'll be away for awhile rehabilitating from knee surgeries, but will keep in touch via phone and email and look forward to returning and seeing you all again when you visit our shelter. You are always welcome.

"In the Spirit of Caring..."

Lynne C. Christensen

Animal Welfare

It takes a community

This 2005 annual shelter report comes at a sentinel moment for animal welfare in the Greater Williamsburg area.

Perhaps it was reports of animal abuse or the frantic plight of pet owners looking for their lost companions after Hurricane Katrina, or maybe even the reports of dogs that broke from long-term confinement on their backyard chains to attack helpless children. Whatever the motivator, 2005 was a year in which our community's awareness of responsible pet ownership and the HHS success in focusing on adoptable animal placement, spay and neuter and humane education earned the public spotlight. What follows is a summary of how our entire community worked together in 2005 to achieve success.

Adoption Success: HHS has been close before, but 2005 was the first year in which every healthy and adoptable animal was assured a new home. That accomplishment was only possible by the collective efforts of numerous volunteers from all walks of life, a trained and committed staff, generous donors, a supportive business community and a Board of Directors whose vision helped establish that goal in 2001.

Our sheltered animals benefited tremendously this year by more than 300 volunteers who willingly socialized, exercised and even fostered young or sick animals who weren't ready for adoption. Some of the over 8000 volunteer hours came during their lunch hour, others from the College of William and Mary volunteered around their class schedules, while still more came whenever they could. I especially want to acknowledge two special groups of volunteers - first, the members of the HHS Auxiliary who worked tirelessly throughout the year helping to raise funds for our animals. Their work created a record setting year for contributions with over $83,000 including donations through their canister collection program. Secondly, I want to acknowledge the volunteers in our growing Foster Family program for making such a compassionate contribution helping to save animals who without their help would not have been adoptable. These volunteers give up weeks at a time to help insure that each animal had a new chance at life. It truly has taken a total community effort for us to achieve this level of success.

Here's a summary of intake and adoption statistics for the period 2002 through 2005. HHS continues to operate an Open Admission shelter for local residents meaning that no animal is turned away regardless of health or temperament. Those who are sick or aggressive are treated within our means or humanely euthanized.

Animals Arrivals	2002	2003	2004	2005
Total Intake	2334	2608	2321	2126
Dogs and Puppies	981	912	862	844
Cats and Kittens	1234	1606	1341	1174
Other Animals	119	90	118	108
Total Placement	1069	1018	995	931

Overall Placement Rate	2002	2003	2004	2005
Dogs and Puppies	58%	60%	62%	55%
Cats and Kittens	37%	28%	31%	36%
Adoptable Placement Rate
Dogs and Puppies	99%	95%	100%	100%
Cats and Kittens	95%	100%	98%	100%

Subsidized Spay/Neuter Program: A second equally significant characteristic of 2005 was a continuing trend in fewer animals surrendered at our shelter despite community growth. We attribute this success to our close cooperation with JCC and York County Animal Control officers helping us identify and address the needs of low income pet owners whose pets continue to contribute to animal overpopulation. Through generous funding from the DJ&T Foundation, HHS provided free or subsidized spay and neuter and low cost vaccination services for nearly 250 pets of qualifying low income residents in 2005 and more than 1000 since 2002. Many thanks to Animal Clinic and Wellness Center, Godspeed Animal Care, Noah's Ark Veterinary Hospital, Toano Animal Clinic, All Creatures Animal Clinic, Woodland Veterinary Hospital and James River Veterinary Hospital for supporting this program. This intake trend confirms that we are seeing the reward of addressing the INTAKE side of our shelter as well as the ADOPTION side.

Humane Education: Our volunteer Humane Educators, Bettyanne DeFranco, Joyce Smith and Mary Beach, along with several other helpers spent countless hours in our local elementary and middle schools providing age-appropriate information about pet care, being kind to others and all life, protecting themselves from aggressive animals and the importance of spay/neuter to fight companion animal overpopulation. We also reached out with KIND news subscriptions for more than 3,800 elementary school students with the program in every local elementary school for each of the school's 9 months. Our Humane Educators helped many scout troops work on their pet care badges and provided frequent "behind the scenes" tours of the HHS animal shelter along with community service project opportunities. For local seniors, Shelia and Jim Wheaton organized 15 volunteers to conduct 84 pet visitations at local retirement and nursing facilities reaching more than 1,000 residents with the benefits of a companion animal visit.

A vision for the future: Now is the time to shape a hopeful future for our community's abandoned companion animals. That effort has already started with the plan to replace the current animal shelter with a new and inviting adoption and education center through a public/private partnership with local governments. You'll read elsewhere in this newsletter about Give Me Shelter — a New Leash on Life. The shelter staff, the HHS Board and I are absolutely committed to making this vision a reality. We are creating a facility that all will be proud of as it serves our community's needs. None of us will settle for a "warehouse for abandoned animals"; the new regional animal shelter will be a welcoming adoption and humane education center that reflects the important role of companion animals in our community's values. I continue to be honored to have the opportunity to work with so many talented and committed people and look forward to 2006 with optimism and enthusiasm. We have accomplished much together. With your continued support, all things are possible.

Precious Lives

Dr. Stephen Kline

If you have read this space before, you know that I usually talk about specific medical conditions that can affect your pets and what you can do to avoid them. In this way I hope to add to your fund of knowledge and keep your pets safe and healthy. Recently, however, my son, Rees, entered the world. His presence in our home has brought with him a previously unknown love and appreciation. As a result, I have dedicated my life to his care and continued happiness. The impact of his arrival has not just affected my wife Kelley and me; it has also affected the other original housemates, our boxer, "Fish", and "Murray", our cat. It is with careful observation and consideration that we have attended to their needs while their lives have been turned upside-down. It has me considering, for the purposes of this article, that the single best thing an owner can do to ensure optimum health and happiness for their pets is to provide them with an attentive, nurturing environment despite what life throws at you.

Take this time to examine the relationship between you and your pet — they enrich your life every day with their antics, affection and love. Remember that they derive the same from you. Think about what you can do to enrich their lives — whether in the form of walks, road trips, a new toy, special treats, social visits - what do they like? Just to take the time out of your schedule to lavish attention upon them goes a long way for their sense of well-being. Variety is key — watch them embrace life to its fullest when they experience something new. Show them how much you love and appreciate them and they will be healthier for it. Spoil them with attention and affection, but save the food treats for when they're really good as excess weight will prematurely age a pet.

The more in tune with your pets you are, the more you can adapt to their changing needs as their life progresses. Don't forget about your old cat, the one that seems content to lie around all day. He'll still play if given the right stimulus. Do that and both of your lives will be enriched. Are you content to let your old dog while away the time on a bed? Take the initiative, stimulate her mind and body. She will surprise you. Sick animals have special needs, and your familiarity with them will help you identify problems before they become insurmountable. Love and respect for your pets and the memory of what drew you together initially will give them a lifetime of happiness.

We can't forget what our pets bring to our lives. In addition to our new son, we recently had the opportunity to add our cat "Mardi", one of the several Katrina refugees at HHS, to our family. He has developed into quite the rambunctious housemate and injects a humor and spirit into our home that make us feel fortunate to have him as part of our lives. He, along with "Fish" and "Murray", remind us every day that the care and attention we give them are repaid to us multiple times over.

trained, he is doing great.

ROMEO

We brought Romeo home yesterday and he truly is a wonderful cat. He and Petey seem to be off to a great start. Romeo pays no attention to Petey and Petey does not know what to make of him yet. HAHA Thank-you for all that you do. We will keep you

~ Thank you, The Tietjens Family

DELILAH

In September of 2005, we lost our beloved cat, Tarmac, to a stroke. We thought we could never love another cat until we met Delilah. It was love at first sight when I laid eyes on her at the Humane Society's display in our local PetSmart. This precious six-year-old tabby is filling our house with life and love. Although she still remains quite shy, she has gone from spending hours hiding under the bed to sleeping quietly in a chair or gazing out the windows with great interest at the birds and squirrels in our yard and occasionally careening crazily around the house as only cats can do! When asked why we selected an older cat instead of a kitten, we explain that we wanted a mature cat who is no longer shinnying up the lampshades! We are very grateful for her presence in our lives and thought you might like to know how Delilah's life is turning out.

~ Sincerely, Sarah Stevens

EMMA

I wanted to pass along some pictures of Emma aka Nagin whom I adopted in early February. She has adapted very well and is a joy to have. She also went to see Dr. Hancock at Jolly Pond and received a clean bill of health!

2005 Annual REPORT

Dear Friends and Sponsors,

On behalf of our community's homeless animals, who are unable to speak for themselves, I would like to thank you for generously supporting the Heritage Humane Society. With your help, the HHS has grown into a highly successful, well-run organization dedicated to finding homes for the animals that through no fault of their own are in need of adoption. You have enabled the HHS to save literally thousands of animals' lives that otherwise would be lost and to alleviate the suffering of those beyond medical assistance and rehabilitation. By supporting the HHS's spay-neuter and humane education programs, you have reduced the number of homeless and unwanted animals in the community. As we look forward to a bright future, I hope that you'll join me in supporting the HHS, one of the Greater Williamsburg area's most important non-profit organizations.

The Heritage Humane Society (HHS) annual fund is a critical portion of our annual income providing 47 percent of our total operating budget. An annual fund gift may come from an individual, a business or a corporation. They are clear donations - no goods or services are provided - so therefore are 100% tax deductible. Contributors are asked each year to renew or increase their gifts. To meet the future demands of operating our new shelter, we will need to increase the amount of money raised through the Annual Fund. Please consider making a gift to the HHS annual fund by sending in the self addressed stamped envelope included in this newsletter.

HAILEY AND SHEBA

We adopted Hailey in early 2004 when she was about three months old and her shelter name was Tracy. She is an Australian shepherd mix. Her notable feature was that she was missing half of her front left leg and was already spayed. Having only 3 "working" legs doesn't slow her down. She may hobble when she walks, but she "flies like the wind" when she plays with her best buddy, Sheba, our older dog — a lab mix. They are best buddies as you can see from the photos. As you know, Aussies need a "job." Hailey's self appointed job is to "herd" Sheba!

GIVE ME SHELTER:

A New Leash on Life

Campaign News

Thanks to the hard work and the generosity of our friends, the campaign total continues to climb. As of March 15, 2006, the Give Me Shelter campaign has just over $1,050,000 in gifts, pledges, and board appropriated funds towards our goal of $1.3 million.

We're pleased to welcome Christie Chippis, HHS's new director of development, to the campaign committee. She joins Jim Mundy, chair; Lynne Christensen, executive director; Peggy Scholley and Barbara Teele, board of directors representatives; and our campaign ambassadors: Eunice Fenwick, Chris Faia, Jan Tullis and Margaret Driscoll. If you're interested in becoming a campaign ambassador, please contact Christie at 221-0910 or email her at development@heritagehumanesociety.org.

"Jenny Peck and Isaac squeeze into a small room for his bath. The new shelter will have more space for dog care."

Come See Us at Bark in the Park

The Give Me Shelter campaign will have a tent at the upcoming Bark in the Park on April 29th. Stop by for a visit and check out the latest architectural plans and elevations of the new building. We'll also have information on the Give Me Shelter campaign. In addition, you can pick up word puzzles for the kids, take our canine trivia challenge, and embark on a BIP scavenger hunt. Toss your name into the dog house and enter our drawing for unique gifts. See you there!

New Shelter Progress

Due to rapidly increasing construction costs, the Facilities Committee has been tweaking the new shelter plans for ways to make the design cost effective while maintaining the optimum environment for animal care. The plans and specifications have been sent out for construction bids and everyone at HHS is eagerly anticipating a groundbreaking later this year.

Sheila Wheaton holds a pair of foster kittens. Nurseries for kittens and puppies in the new shelter will make HHS less dependent on volunteer foster care."

Local Artist to Create Portrait of New Shelter

Richard DePaul, a noted Williamsburg watercolor artist, has generously agreed to paint a portrait of the new shelter façade to help promote this vital project. Richard is well-known for his delicately detailed paintings of Colonial Williamsburg buildings and gardens as well as scenes from Europe and the Islands. Richard and his wife Janet are life-long advocates of adopting shelter dogs. They found their current canine companion, Patches, at HHS and Richard predicts she'll be by his side in his studio as he works on the rendering. Our deep appreciation goes to Richard for donating his time and talents to the new shelter campaign.

"Richard DePaul works in his studio with Patches."

Four Paws Up

The Very Best Pets Network selected HHS as one of only 25 participating shelters in the United States to earn a $1,000 grant supporting animal care.

VBPN is a partnership of WalMart, Purina and with the American Humane Association.

Opening a package from the Build a Bear Workshop, we discovered a cardboard pet carrier, an adorable fluffy stuffed animal and a huge surprise — a generous check for $6,000! This grant will allow HHS to continue offering spay/neuter services to pets owned by qualifying low income residents for an additional six months.

Our friends at MARSCON held their annual convention in Williamsburg and again this year donated 100 percent of the proceeds from their auction to the care of our animals. This year's auction produced a donation of more than $1,400!

Four Paws Up to A Williamsburg Wellness Center and Spa for their support to the HHS Auxiliary by hosting a Spa Day to benefit the HHS animals. Caroline Powell and her staff donated 100 percent of their proceeds and an additional $100 as a result of this event. Our muscles are relaxed and our faces are glowing.

A glittery Four Paws to the creative talents of Williamsburg Landing resident Ginny Merrill who creates and sells beautiful jewelry products and shares the proceeds for the care of HHS animals.

What would our cats do without the continued generous donations of cat litter from our friends at Bennett Mineral? Fortunately, we don't have to answer that question since Bennett Mineral has continued in their long tradition of support to HHS by donating all the cat litter that our cats use. Many thanks and a big "Four Paws in the Air" to our friends at Bennett Mineral.

SIBERIAN HUSKY

By Erica Mascarello

[The founder of a local Siberian husky rescue group, Erica Mascarello, offered to share her insights into the characteristics of these dogs as companion pets. Much like with Dalmatians a few years ago, HHS anticipates increased interest in these beautiful dogs based on a new Disney movie

- editor]

Have you seen Eight Below yet? The American Humane Association, which participated in assuring that all the animals were cared for during the filming, calls Eight Below "...a lump-in-your-throat survival story of a group of abandoned sled dogs that must fend for themselves in the frozen wilderness."

Perhaps you will respond like many others who will be captured by these dog's beautiful eyes and intelligent friendly temperament. Like death and taxes, certain events are very inevitable. For those in the shelter and breed rescue community, we know to expect a surge of purebred dogs that are featured in popular movies within 7 to 8 months after the opening weekend. The next great surge of surrendered animals is likely to be Siberian huskies.

From my experience fostering and placing these pets, I want to help potential adopters understand the characteristics of the Siberian husky to help reduce surprises, frustration, disappointment and even abandonment.

Siberian huskies are high-energy dogs that must have an occupation — they need to work! These dogs demand your attention and will get it, one way or another. Siberians run and roam. They cannot be trained NOT to run. Siberians are escape artists. A Siberian will find a way to "escape" and unfortunately has no street sense or homing instinct whatsoever. So more than about any other breed, the Siberian husky must be on leash or in a securely-fenced area and supervised at all times.

Siberian huskies dig holes to cool off in the summer or to form nice cozy nests in the winter. Landscaping is not their strength.

A Siberian husky is NOT a watch/guard dog. Siberians are not inclined to give even warning barks. Siberians shed A LOT. Shedding comes and goes with the seasons but continues all year round with more intense periods of shedding at the change of seasons. Expect lots of fur.

Perhaps one of the most endearing characteristics of Siberian Huskies is that they "talk". They speak in "woos" and bays, vice barks and yips.

Siberian huskies are "strong, stubborn, independent, and rambunctious". Similarly, others would say they are "powerful, persistent, smart and full of energy and stamina".

Training a Siberian husky requires patience. They do not react well to coercive means of training, but need a strong intelligent owner. More important than physical strength, the owner must be strong in character and consistent.

As a general rule, Siberian huskies have a high prey instinct, so if you have other small animals, your Siberian may see them as prey.

Most of all, it's important to remember, the Siberian huskies you see in movies are not the dogs you will meet or own. Talk to people at the end of any Siberian's leash. Those of us who are owned by Siberians tend to love to talk about ours, so please ask!

WANTED: Seasonal Volunteer to help organize others supporting the HHS float for the 2006 Williamsburg Christmas Parade. Our 'construction project' float in the 2005 parade was Barbara and Woody Teele's 10th year providing this leadership. Barbara and Woody have appreciated help from others over the years including assistance from Don and Bettyanne DeFranco, William and Mary SOAP students and many Scout troops. Barbara says that the fondest memories of their 10 parades is seeing how many of the 'paraded pets' find new homes. We thank Barbara and Woody for their tremendous dedication as we look for a new lead volunteer who will help build his or her own Williamsburg Christmas parade memories. Please call Lynne to discuss this opportunity.

HHS AUXILIARY Update By Diane Kelly

The HHS Auxiliary continues to work hard for the benefit of the animals. On Sunday, February 26th another spa day was held at A Williamsburg Wellness Center and Spa. A very special thank you to Caroline and all her staff that donated 50% of their fees to the care of our shelter animals.

Sales of Non-Event tickets raised a total of $13,650 for a chance to win one of this year's great prizes: One week at a home just outside Annapolis, MD; Four days at Fairfield Resorts in Florida; a weekend at Wintergreen, VA, a lunch cruise on the York River compliments of the Virginia Gazette, and a pet portrait donated by 410

Photography. Watch for the winners in the next newsletter

We hope to see everyone with their friends at this year's Bark in the Park on April 29th. This event with its many exhibitors, demonstrations and other activities is always a highlight of our year.

The Auxiliary is a hard working group of volunteers that always welcomes new members. We meet the second Wednesday of the month at 10:00 AM at the main Williamsburg Library. Please come join us and help the animals. For further information call Diane Kelly (229-8023).
